CALIFORNIA TO HELP FIGHT HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE GOV. NEFF ASKS FEDERAL AID TO SAVE CATTLE

DISEASE UNDER CONTROL NOW ALONG WEST COAST

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Sixteen federal veterinarians from Sacramento, Cal., who have been engaged in the foot and mouth disease fight in California have left for Texas to take up the battle in this state. The disease is practically eradicated in California.

Victorious in the opening fight against the hoof and mouth disease, which apparently is confined to the initial outbreak center of 5,500 acres, and with federal and state funds of $380,000 made available, forces combating the disease today turned their attention to adjoining counties.

Not a single new outbreak has occurred since late Saturday. It was on the area already restricted and under rigorous guard regulations.

Gov. Pat Neff, late Monday afternoon placed $380,000 at the disposal of Dr. Marion Innes, federal expert on the hoof and mouth disease, in charge of the fight against the disease. Of this amount $280,000 will be held in reserve.

BAVARIANS ALIVE TO RUMOR ABOUT ANOTHER REVOLT

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—After nearly a year of peace, following collapse of the Hitler-Ludendorff "beer cellar" putsch, Bavaria today was alive with rumors of a monarchist uprising.

Police garrisons in Munich were held in a state of "alarm ferret-schaft" (readiness for alarm) and Fascist everywhere were placed under surveillance.

Bavarian police today broke up a fascist demonstration near Munich and arrested 13 demonstrators.

The agitation coincides with the date, October 1, originally set for the release of the notorious agitator Adolf Hitler, from jail. If he is released the authorities fear a demonstration and possible attempt at a coup. It is understood the state attorney has protested against giving Hitler his freedom—it is feared his followers may seize the occasion to start trouble.

"COMMON SENSE ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE CHURCH" DISCUSSED AT VAWTER EVANGELISTIC SERVICE

Interest in the evangelistic meeting at the First Christian church is growing steadily. Aside from the sermons by Dr. Vawter, the music is a big item. Especially unique was the trio played by Mr. House on the Marimba-Xylophone, and Mr. Reaves and Dr. Vawter on the Chimes. They will play Lange's Flower Song Wednesday night.

The children's Bible drill class meets every evening immediately after school, and will give their public demonstration at the regular services on Wednesday night.

Last night the sermon subject was "The church, the body of Christ."

The evangelist took his text from the 12th chapter of 1st Corinthians, which he calls a "common sense illustration of the church." The human body represents the church. The head furnishes directions, and is the most important part of the body. Every member of the body is a member by birth. There is no other way by which a member can be a part of the body, but by birth. In John 3:5 we are told that except a man be born again he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. The test of a member is the test of loyalty. A man's hands and feet obey his head. Every member of Christ also obeys Him. To refuse to obey any commandment of His, is to prove that there is no relation or connection. The church is the body of Christ, and the body of Christ is to live eternally. Therefore the man who will not accept Christ and who is not a member of His body will not live eternally, for whoever is not in Christ, is against Him. To be against Christ, is to be a part of the body of sin, which is to be eternally destroyed.

TEXAS PANTHERS HOLD LEAD OF GAME WITH MEMPHIS

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 30.—The Fort Worth Panthers, Texas League champions, were holding down a one-game lead over Memphis, Southern Association pennant winners, in the Dixie Championship Series today as the two teams returned to Tennessee to mix again Wednesday.

Victory for Fort Worth Wednesday will end the series giving the Panthers four out of seven games played. The standing Fort Worth 3; Memphis 2; and one game a tie.

The closing game here Monday was a free hitting affair in which the locals put across 14 runs to 8 for the visitors. Wachtel pitching for Fort Worth allowed fourteen hits and eight runs after holding the visitors scoreless for five innings. Rogers on the mound for Memphis yielded 25 hits including four doubles and three homers, bringing the number of circuit clouts collected by local batters to twelve during the series.

In event an eighth game is necessary to decide the series, it will be played at Memphis after Wednesday, Memphis winning the choice by a coin toss here.

Texas Banker Gets Into Limelight In Wall Street Deal

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—An obscure Texas banker—obscure at least as far as Wall Street is concerned—today undertook to float a $50,000,000 loan for Mexico.

After practically all the big foreign financing firms in the street had given up the task J. L. Arlitt, Austin, Texas, announced the bonds will go on sale today.

They are six per cent gold dollar bonds to yield about nine per cent. Arlitt is understood to be in Austin. The New York end of the deal is being handled by his branch office here. The loan will be guaranteed by oil revenue of the Mexican Government.

The Missionary societies of most local churches held their weekly services Monday afternoon. These ladies organizations are reported to be doing some very interesting and helpful work, with growing memberships almost without exception.

Harrison-Preston Well To Resume Drilling Tuesday

J. E. Winans states that the Harrison et al test on the Preston near the freak and short lived Kossel Jones well of 1922 spudded in on the 25th. of this month but since then has been waiting to drill further until some minor machinery difficulties had been handled. It was expected that steam would start the drill down sometime Tuesday. Connections have been made with the gasser at Kossel to supply the needed fuel and rapid roadway should hereafter be made on the operation.

CHICAGO RIDING ADONIS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—George Munding, "Adonis of Chicago riding masters," and pet of many of society women, is in jail at Wheaton, suburb on a charge of killing his sweetheart Mrs. Julia Abb Douglass, statuette riding mistress. The tragedy occurred last night just outside of Mrs. Douglass' stables at Hinsdale.

Witnesses told police that Munding was intoxicated. A jealous quarrel preceding the shooting of the woman, Mrs. Minnie Abb, step-mother of the victim and other witnesses, told police.

Munding, according to Mrs. Abb, quarreled with Mrs. Douglass over the shooting of a white horse. Mrs. Douglass told him that Robert Plummer, a young automobile salesman had killed the horse because it sustained a fatal injury. Munding went into another rage.

Plummer had paid much attention to Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. Abb said, much to the anger of Munding.

After more quarreling Munding seized Mrs. Douglass by the arm, crying:

"If I can't have you then nobody else will."

Munding drew a revolver, pressed it against the woman's stomach and pulled the trigger. Mrs. Douglass died almost immediately. Munding jumped into a machine and drove furiously toward Chicago. Police captured him on a description furnished by his machine.

4000 CHINAMEN DIE IN FIERCE SHANGHAI WAR

SHANGHAI, Sept. 30.—Four thousand Chinese soldiers have fallen in the fierce fighting raging at the gates of Shanghai, the heaviest casualties known to modern warfare. Machine gun fire and artillery both sides digging in along the bombardments continued today with railroads near Sungkang. Wounded soldiers of the Chekian army are streaming into the city, many of them seeking shelter in the foreign settlements, which already are crowded. Today about 400 badly wounded arrived.

FEDERAL BOARD ACTS ON PARDON OF NEGROES

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Sept. 30.—The federal pardon board recommended the parole of fifteen negro soldiers, former members of the 24th Infantry, serving sentences for participation in the Houston riots. Prison authorities refused to disclose the names of the prisoners pending Department of Justice action upon the recommendations.

MECCA MAY FALL MOST ANY HOUR SAYS DISPATCH

CAIRO, Sept. 30.—An army of 25,000 Wahibs, bent on capturing Mecca were at the gates of the Holy City today. Mecca's fall was expected hourly. Moslem leaders are endeavoring to summon a world conference of Islam leaders to decide what should be done.

Presbytery Held At Taylor A Very Successful One

Rev. E. H. Hudson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, upon his return recently from the Central Texas Presbytery, reports a most interesting session. Malcolm Lee Purcell of the University Presbyterian church at Austin was received as a candidate for the ministry. He and another young man, Rupert Smith of the First Presbyterian church at Waco were examined for the ministry.

Among other interesting events were the following:

The pastoral relations between Rev. Ernest Sanson and the Mayfield Church were dissolved; also between Rev. F. L. McFadden and the Marlin Church. Rev. Mr. Sanson goes to Houston and Rev. Mr. McFadden goes to Edinburg for post-graduate study.

Mr. J. E. Watts, formerly superintendent of the schools in Taylor, and now superintendent of the Presbyterian Orphan Home at Fries Valley. The orphanage needs $34,000 for the support of about 100 orphans. Last year was closed with a debt of $4,000.

The Presbytery took action designating November 12th for a convocation at Austin, and the 18th of November for a like assembly in Waco, to which conventions all members of the churches of the Presbytery are invited to study stewardship.

Rev. H. R. McFadden was elected chairman of the Presbytery's committee on this subject, instead of Rev. H. L. McFadden, resigned.

The invitation of Leander for the fall meeting was unanimously accepted by a rising vote.

Rev. L. D. Penke was received from the Presbytery of Dallas.

Mr. Rupere Smith of Waco is being licensed to preach the gospel.

The ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Shiloh Methodist church will hold an ice cream supper Friday night on the lawn of the church. They invite their friends at Mexia to be present.

Ben Hunt is a business visitor to Dallas today.

LOVE FOR MINISTER TURNS TO ASHES.

This photograph of Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, of Ina, Ill., was taken in her cell at Salem, Ill., where she was taken for safe keeping after confessing she murdered her husband, Wilford Sweetin, with arsenic at the same time Rev. Lawrence M. Hight killed his wife by the same means, so they might be free to love each other. Her love for the pastor-murderer has turned to ashes since she found he was not the superman she deemed him. She divides her time in her cell between reading and weeping.

WIDOW ACCUSED OF MURDERING HUSBAND AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Susie Cook, widow of George Cook, wealthy contractor here, and Ben Carson, nephew of Cook, were indicted by the grand jury charged with the murder of Cook. Cook's slayer was supposed to have concealed himself in a secret staircase following the shooting July 20. Cook was slain with his own revolver stolen from his room.

Mary's Ankle Brings Down House Monday

"Mary's Ankle," now being presented at the Opera House by the Edna Park Players, is the best show that has been produced by this company since their arrival in our city, in the opinion of the critics.

This play, as all others produced by the Edna Park's company is a good, clean and wholesome drama, which will be enjoyed by men, women and children alike. You may feel safe in taking your wife, sweetheart or daughter to this play and know that nothing of an offensive nature will be played.

The story is good comedy from beginning to end, do not come to this show unless you will enjoy several hours of good comedy. Two young professional men, one a doctor, the other a lawyer and their chum, a would-be financier, are all trying to get ahead in the world.

Their various means of raising money for a meal ticket would make a smile come across the sphynx face. Edna Park is at her best as the daughter of the landlady, whose duty it is to keep up the house and take care of an invalid mother. This is one of the best comedies that has ever been to this city and you will not be disappointed in seeing it.

S. E. Colgin and T. Frank Smith of Dallas were Mexia visitors Tuesday.

County Clerk J. L. Hay was a Mexia visitor Monday from Groesbeck.

DECISION MADE FOLLOWING AN INSPECTION TOUR

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Governor Neff has wired the Department of Agriculture in Washington, requesting the federal government to take charge of the fight against the foot and mouth disease in Southeast Texas. Governor Neff said the situation is serious and threatening the commercial life of the state. The decision to call for federal supervision was made following a tour of inspection in the infected area where 2000 head of cattle have been prescribed.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The battle of the Boyne, centuries old struggle between Protestant and Catholic over the boundary line between the north and south of Ireland, was carried to parliament today at a special session called by Prime Minister MacDonald.

The Irish Free State and Ulster having declined to agree between themselves on a settlement, Britain's Labor Government proposes to move a bill which will amend the Irish treaty and establish a boundary commission to settle the matter arbitrarily.

Prison Farm Is Placed On Honor

SUGARLAND, Texas, Sept. 30.—Texas' first honor prison farm became a reality Monday.

Filing past governor Neff and his party, 122 convicts, pick of all the states farms, received a hearty hand clasp from the chief executive and his staff.

With their transformation, guards look "honor men," and all other trappings and terrors of prison life became things of the past. Honor is the only thing that took their place.

Following the convicts' reception by the Governor, the men presented him a gold fountain pen with the suggestion "that he use it occasionally." Governor Neff laughed.

After the opening services the men changed from the somber green prison garb to the new blue uniforms of the honor system and a barbecue dinner was served at which Neff made a brief speech.

Columbia Faces Stiff Schedule

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Apropos of Columbia's football schedule this season, many experts believe that Percy Naughton, the Blue and White's coach, has bitten off more than he can chew. The schedule includes games with Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and the Army, four of the most powerful teams in the East.

One faction among the under graduates is of the opinion that Columbia should defeat Pennsylvania or Cornell before taking on such teams as Syracuse and the Army. The first two eleven have beaten Columbia regularly since gridiron relations were resumed after the war.

Yesterday's Hero—Fred Marberry, the Senator's relief hurler, acting in his fiftieth game of the season in that capacity held the Red Sox scoreless the last six innings and gave Washington the American League pennant with a 4 to 2 victory.

L. of N. Compromises With Japanese And Save The Protocol

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—The League of Nations Council has compromised with Japan and saved the protocol of arbitration and security.

Although it remained for the Assembly to take definite action, League leaders indicated that a basis for ending the deadlock had been found in private conversations which were still in progress early today.

The issue—Japan's insistence that the League interfere in purely domestic affairs—has been settled in favor of the Japanese.

While the latest amendment to the protocol which is to be made the foundation for world peace and security was declared unacceptable, the council was understood to have agreed to accept Ambassador Adachi's first amendment offered last week.

This amendment provides that the League council has the right to use conciliatory efforts even after the Hague court has decided that a question in dispute is a domestic affair.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 30.—Bandits early this morning looted the Exchange State Bank of Waco, 25 miles south of here, and escaped with an unknown amount of loot. The robbers cut the telephone and telegraph wires leading to town before the raid.

Remodelled Back Field From A.&M. To Contest Sewanee

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 30.—A remodelled back-field will be tried by the Aggies when the teams meet Saturday at Fair Park Stadium on Saturday, October 11 as the first big game of the Fair schedule and the biggest attraction offered North Texas fans this year in the line of competition between rival sections. Offense was not the strong point of the Aggies in their unsuccessful 1923 campaign. The defense was good enough to hold the opposing teams to small scores but the punch was lacking to make that at least of defense sufficient. The Aggies need two touchdowns to win in their contest with the Sewanee team. The defense was not the strong point of the Aggies in their unsuccessful 1923 campaign. The Art of Beauty

By B. M. DOUGLAS

EGYPTIAN WOMEN 4,000 YEARS AGO EXPERTS IN COSMETIC ART

THROUGH the ages woman's chief attention in beauty matters has been centered on her complexion. Even in the Dark Ages, when prepared creams and lotions were unknown, women had their put recipes often very primitive for bleaching, softening and purifying the skin. The Gauls who excited the envy and admiration of the Romans by their clear complexions, bathed in their clear complexion, bathed in their clear complexion, bathed in their clear complexion.

Illustration of an ancient Egyptian woman applying makeup to her face.

was not a surprise. Marlin had a game scheduled with Clifton for Oct. 31, which is likely to be cancelled because of the evident weakness of the Cliftonites. It is said the Waxahachie High School Indians had thrown a scare in to the Waco Tiger camp by defeating the Terrell High School squad, another class A contender, by a count of 93 to 7, however, the Marlin Tiger fans believe that Tyson will have a championship team again, notwithstanding reports contrarywise. The score of Corsicana High against Keweenaw of 32 to 0 was not unexpected, but reports are turning out the hope that the Corsicans will be in the championship race for football honors this year.

The Black Cats are working long and late in whipping into shape for the game with Itasca Friday. Those who see Poter's proteges in action on that day will see a gentleman's game worth seeing and will not have occasion to feel ashamed of Mexia's offering.

the past Masonic year, according to Grand Secretary W B Pearson of the Masome Grand Lodge of Texas.

Springfield lodge at Mexia has been a part of this growth and increase, as the lodge here has gone through one of the busiest twelve months' periods in which interest in Freemasonry has been very pronounced.

The total membership in Texas now is 129,000. These belong to lodges that number around 1,000. Mexia Springfield lodge is number 74.

Reports of these lodges are made annually, on June 24.

The reports of all lodges have been tabulated and the information in the reports, all classified by the department of Grand Secretary W B Pearson, is now ready for the meeting of the Grand lodge and other grand Masonic bodies early in December.

The first meeting of Masons, preliminary to the meeting of the grand bodies will be held late in November, when the committee on work, or school of instruction, will be held, this being about a week before the meeting of the Grand Royal Arch chapter of which T. M. Bartley of Waco is grand secretary. The Grand chapter also has shown a fine increase in membership for the year.

Following the meeting of the Grand chapter, Grand lodge and Grand council will come a meeting of the committee on work of the Blue lodge. And in all, Masons of the state will be in Waco for nearly a month, beginning with late November. Some of these will come and go, but there will be several meetings from first to last.

SAN ANTONIO MAN PRAISES TANALAC

MEDICINE CORRECTED STOMACH TROUBLE AND RESTORED WEIGHT, SAYS FILIPPONE

Among the vast number of people everywhere who have publicly expressed their indebtedness to Tanalac for that much needed "bitt" which has put them on the road to normal weight, health and strength, is Joe J. Filippone, 214 Arroyo St., San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Filippone is that genial gentleman who represents the Merchants Transportation Co. as a bus dispatcher at the Gunter Hotel. Mr. Filippone has had a most gratifying experience with Tanalac, which he relates as follows:

"I have nothing but the best to say for Tanalac, two bottles and a half started me up hill nearly four years ago and I have been climbing ever since. I weighed 125 lbs then and was in a badly run down condition. I had no appetite, digestion was bad, nerves undone, my sleep unsound and that tired, draggy feeling was on me all the time. Tanalac boosted my appetite from the very first. Then my stomach and nerves got right and I began to take on weight and strength. Since that time I have not had any more troubles with my health. I now weigh 155 lbs a gain of 30 lbs."

MEXIA PARTIES SEE GRANDEUR OF YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK WHILE ON TRIP TO FAR NORTHWEST

By FRED S. KARNER.

From Humphreys Lodge we turned the benzine buggy toward Yellowstone Park, traversing the Grand Canyon from Salida Colorado into Canyon City. There is sixty miles of this ever turning road and with the swift waters of the river churning their way thru the granite boulders and girding quietly thru some pool as if to rest on their mad rush, the tourist gets an ever changing view of a cosmic drama on which the curtain—save that of nite—is never drawn. On thru Denver and out the Brighton Speedway the highway leads thru the vast expanse of mile upon mile and endless apron of acres as they skirt in the far distance the majestic range of mountains. One marvels at the mighty lay of land and you have a feeling of uncertainty as your bewildered gaze grasps the view before you. It all seems endless and you feel alone on earth—no matter how many are with you.

There is an empty void on these plains that make you feel you want to get close to some one by being closer to nature. There is a kinship you feel and at the same time space appeals to you there as no where else, for you feel your helplessness. It may be the Creator's lay for a silent sermon where the utmost reaches of man's vanity is laid bleak and bare and he yearns for a companionship that is expressed in the secret void about him, and yet in an unknown language. No one can appreciate what space is and what it is like until he has seen and "felt" the plains of Wyoming.

On thru Cheyenne and Casper and thru the hot springs of Thermopopolis into Cody.

Cody, Wyoming as you know was founded by and is named after that peerless scout and Indian fighter Wm. Cody better known to history as Buffalo Bill. There we found the Irma Hotel named after his daughter who is now married and living in Cody. The hotel is full of relics of the chase and many pictures all portraying important episodes in the life of Buffalo Bill. Here proper the West begins and yet it is so modern that were it not for the broad brimmed hats and high heeled boots worn by both men and women you would think yourself just "forty-five minutes from Broadway."

It is thru Cody that you leave for the eastern entrance of Yellowstone Park. But before reaching the entrance you traverse about twelve miles of your route thru beautiful "hohone Canyon. This is a more or less dangerous gorge drive with narrow road-ways and perilous turns—short and abrupt. It is in this canyon you pass the second highest dam in the world—that of Shoshone and with the immense lake that it forms gives you the first glimpse you have had of God's bounty and man's ingenuity. For with the melting snow of the mountains and the immense artificial dam constructed by our Government the desert blooms into a rose garden and is verdant with food crops.

It is then not far to Yellowstone and on approaching the entrance you are hailed by gate-keepers who register you and your car and seal any firearms that you might carry. Yellowstone Park has wonderful accommodations for its guests. Besides hotels at each of the main sight-seeing points you can take your choice of what are called "camps." These are duck covered one room quarters with curtains forming a partition and in each two rooms can be arranged by using the curtains. There are also small stoves, and you realize that you have every convenience. Each morning when the "pack-rat" at your door yells "Fire!"—he wants to know if you want a fire in your stove. It is very cold in the evenings and heavy cover is needed all thru the summer months and a glowing fire is welcomed in your stove each morning. In mid-day the air is balmy and warm and you are ready for the sights and hikes. Each evening after a most bountiful meal in the Camp Dining hall which accommodates twelve hundred guests you are invited to join in a Camp fire sing-song after which is a concert given by "the help" of the Camp. Just here let me state that this "help" are both boys and girls that are working their way thru some college and the organization that owns and controls the camp concession hire them with no large remuneration, but sufficient with their living expenses to allow them to spend their summer at this wonderful Government resort. They have given them most peculiar names a few of which I will give you.

The maids are called "pillow-pushers" the porters "pack-rats" the waitresses "heavers" the drivers of busses "gear-jammers" and the dish-washers "pearl-divers." They are all cultured boys and girls from the best homes of America and the association is the very best. After the concert in the evening there is a large ball room for those that love the "wicked-foot" exercise and then for the aged and antique they have the popcorn by the camp fire with the story hour and family chats. As the busses arrive they are "sung-in" by the girls with their youthful voices and accompanied with their ukuleles and then "sung out" as they leave. It gives you a feeling of welcome as you arrive and one of regret as you wave goodbye. The first camp you come to from the East is Lake Camp. Here is the great and placid Yellowstone Lake—crystal blue and immense in expanse. It nestles there among the mountains over seven thousand feet above sea level and is one of the most beautiful bodies of water in the world. From Lake Camp one drives over the wonderful mountain roads north thru ever changing scenery to what is known as Canon Camp. It is here that you get a view of The Yellowstone Falls. There are two of these falls—the lower being the larger of the two. The fall is over three hundred feet into the canon and with two rainbows glistening in the sunlight and the never ceasing roar of the falls is a never-to-be-forgotten sight. The climb down into the canon below the falls is a perpendicular descent that takes both skill and courage. However, many make the trip down and the climb back, but pay with sore limbs the day following. It is worth all the effort for the falls are in a class with Niagara. In fact from the aesthetic view-point they are more beautiful but not as mighty. Here it is also that many go out to the bear's feeding grounds and watch these wild animals in their native haunts.

From Canon Camp it is about a thirty mile drive to the Northern most entrance camp that you reach from the out-side thru Gardner, Montana. This is known as Mammoth Camp and here it is that the Angels terrace is seen. This is a fantastic formation in terrace order and with the prismatic coloring left by deposits of the water from many centuries of flowing.

After leaving Mammoth camp you turn South and after about a forty mile drive thru Madison Junction come to the most talked-of Camp in the Park—that of Old Faithful. It is named after the geyser that bears that historic name and flows every sixty-five minutes with its water rising over a hundred feet in a wild rush and spray. This hot water comes from or thru a crater of several feet in circumference that reminds one very much of the opening of a volcano. All around this section of the Park are many hot water geysers, in fact the entire surface seemed to be dotted with these steaming and hissing reminders of a hotter place below.

The Park is a Nation Shrine dedicated to Nature and all Americans are interested in its preservation. Wild animals make their home in its mountains—valleys and canyons unmolested by man. Bears meet you in the road and feast on whatever manner of food you might have.

There are no railways in the park and none will be allowed. Conveyance is strictly by private car or bus. A charge of seven dollars and fifty cents is made for any one entering with a private car. Auto camps are at each hand every Camping place and all arranged with plenty of water and conveniences incident to camping life. Many avail themselves of this feature and many people get to see the Park and its wonders at small expense thru this medium of travel and arrangement of living while within its borders.

Man finds a touch of the Infinite in these confines. Personally I feel that if the unbeliever were to enter Yellowstone Park—cast aside his shell of crusty prejudice, open his mind to honest conviction and view The Creator's handicraft thru eyes of searching truth, the painted veil of doubt would fall before his vision and he would feel Divine presence bidding him be true to his own self. Reason unlocks the door of false teachings and conception and nature such as you find here in the Park is the magic key of deliverance.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS VISITED BY FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

The appearance of foot-and-mouth disease on a ranch 15 miles south of Houston, Texas, has resulted in an order by the United States Department of Agriculture quarantining Galveston and Harris Counties, and portions of Brazoria and Fort Bend counties. The disease was not definitely diagnosed as the dread cattle scourge, foot-and-mouth disease until Saturday, September 27, but telegraphic reports received by the Department September 26 so clearly indicated the disease that quarantine orders were issued immediately that day and active control measures begun.

The new outbreak is in no way connected with the infection which appeared in California last winter and which has been suppressed. A preliminary survey of the Texas situation gives strong indication that the infection entered surreptitiously from South America through a gulf port.

The Bureau of Animal Industry immediately assigned 42 experienced inspectors to the suppression of the disease in the region quarantined. Most of these veterinarians are on the ground, others being enroute. Texas officials have signed a contract for cooperation, and steam shovels worked all Friday night preparing a trench for the slaughter of the infected cattle. The usual methods of quarantine, inspection, appraisal, slaughter, and deep burial, resulting in the suppression of other outbreaks, will be followed.

Mr. J. Boag Scott, chairman of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, and Dr. Leon Cloud, State Veterinarian of Texas, are on the ground actively, cooperating with federal forces in directing the work. The United States Department of Agriculture is represented by Dr. L. J. Allen, inspector in charge of veterinary field work in Texas, and by Dr. T. W. Cole, his assistant. Dr. Marion Ames, a Federal veterinarian of long experience in foot-and-mouth disease control, is en route to Houston and will direct the Federal force in the work of eradication.

Thus far the disease, which appeared in one outfit of 400 cattle, has spread to only one additional herd which is on an adjacent ranch. The terrain is flat, cattle in the region are accustomed to handling, and most of the surrounding ranches are under fence, in fact the conditions in general are favorable for the eradication work. The Department of Agriculture has notified livestock authorities and sanitary officials of the various States.

With the curtailment of the inroads of this dread, deadly and disastrous disease, the department has again proven its right to the friendliest sort of cooperation on the part of the entire public. Constantly, the wisdom of having a Livestock Sanitary Commission, too, is made evident. Cattle and human life are both safeguarded by such prompt and thorough methods as have been adopted near Houston.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE WAR IN CHINA.

It is probably quite close to the American people that the civil war in China is not shared in any sense by the Chinese people. The involvement of the Chinese people is limited to destruction of their property, and misappropriation of their money for army purposes. But they themselves are not in the war, have no stake in it and have no particular cause for rejoicing or weeping whichever side wins.

It is a very long day since the Chinese people had anything to do with their so-called national affairs, and it is going to be a very long day before they ever do control them. China is ruled by military leaders who dispute each other's authority. The present battle is nominally a struggle for the rich territory adjacent to Shanghai. The battle line is between Chang of Manchuria and Wu, the Peiping commander-in-chief. It is to settle the issue whether Chang or Wu shall rule China, and it is an existence whatever to the poor or wish of the Chinese people.

Wu believes in unification by force and then rule by an army-supported government. Chang believes in such the same thing but is suspected of a design to respect the Manchus in the person of the boy emperor. Wu would remove him, Lu, whose grip on Shanghai started the rump war, and finally Chang. Chang has precisely the same problem, one that he would remove Lu's enemy, Lu, and then Wu, and finally Sun. There is any difference between the two chief rivals it is that Chang is a friend of Japan and his process, Lu, is the leader of the Anfu, the pro-Japanese party, while Wu is strictly pro-Chinese along his own lines.

The struggle is important because obviously the future of the Chinese people is involved. It is important to this country because many businesses here depend on regular shipments from Shanghai, which are now held up. But the Chinese people are in no way to blame for it. They are ruled by the militarists who maintain themselves with mercenaries paid chiefly from public revenue diverted from their rightful purposes.

Mexicans Thick In Section During Cotton Picking

During cotton picking time, many Mexicans are to be seen in this section of Texas. For the past several days, entire families have been seen on the streets of Mexia. In some instances, they remind one of the cubs of Old Mexico as they squat in groups along the sidewalks. Entire families, big families of all ages have been noted huddled up with their worldly goods wrapped in a bundle waiting for a train to carry them to the next stop. Almost any day or night, these scenes are enacted. When the babies and little fellows grow weary, they are to be seen lying down on the ground, with their mother's shawl or a rag of some sort for a pillow and sometimes with a knitted scarf of bright color for a covering.

LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER NEW HIGHWAY LAW AMENDMENT

Submission of an amendment to the State Constitution which would give the State authority to construct and maintain a connected system of highways is to be sought by the Texas Highway Association during the next session of the Legislature, according to a statement issued Saturday by W. E. Lea of Orange, newly elected president of the association.

Adoption of such an amendment, Lea declared, is imperative if Texas is to continue to receive Federal aid in the construction of highways. The Act of Congress providing for the granting of such aid provides specifically that it shall be extended, after a certain date, to only those states which provide adequate authority to a properly authorized agency of the state to construct, maintain and operate a state system of public highways.

Officers of the association do not anticipate any difficulty in getting the Legislature to submit the proposed amendment to the voters, Lea said. And once it has passed the legislative stage, the association has pledged itself to do all within its power to insure its adoption at the polls. The organization, Lea said, has 6,000 members in every part of the state who will cooperate in this work.

Among other legislative matters which the association has voted to call to the attention of the Thirty-Ninth Legislature, which convenes in Austin next January, are the following:

Further careful consideration of sources of revenue for the construction and maintenance and always in accordance with the public demand. The experience of Texas, as of every other state in the Union, indicates the wastefulness of the policy of expending large sums in the construction of cheap types of public roads, that from the very nature of their construction, can be considered only temporary in character. We urge the building of more lasting improvements, except in those localities where local materials are available and can be used economically.

A comprehensive statute for the regulation of common carriers.

A statute regulating the use of headlights upon public highways.

At a recent convention of the association, resolutions were adopted urging strict enforcement of the laws regulating the operation of motor trucks upon the public highways.

The association also commended the State Highway Department for the "efficient policy developed" in the administration of highway laws passed by the last Legislature. This resolution, according to President Lea, was prompted by the results obtained by the department since it took charge of highway maintenance on January 1, 1924. Appreciation of the association also was expressed to "the press of the State" for its valuable cooperation in educating the public to a great et appreciation of good roads.

In addition to Lea, officers of the association are:

Clifford B. Jones, Spur; W. S. Whaley, Cleburne; O. P. Archer, McAllen; Henry Sackett, Coleman; C. E. E. Holland, Houston; Arch C. Allen, Dallas; Howard Bland, Taylor; Lee Morris, Chico; A. B. Mayhew, Uvalde; Ellis Boyd, Fort Worth; Tucker Royall, Palestine; Leonard Tillotson, Sealy; and C. H. Walker, Dalhart, Vice presidents.

The following constitute the new board of directors:

W. V. Crawford of Waco, immediate past president; George C. Holmgren, San Antonio; E. Eikel, New Braunfels; George B. Dealey, Dallas; W. H. Richardson, Austin; W. D. Haden, Galveston; W. B. Marsh, Tyler; A. C. Love, Beaumont; I. G. Wirtz, Sugarland; A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton; Earnest O. Thompson, Amarillo; W. D. Cline, Wichita Falls and O. C. Dancy, Brownsville.

LOMAX REVIEWS PURPOSE AND WORK OF EXES

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 30.—An interesting review of the work and purposes of the ex-Students' Association of the University of Texas has just been prepared by John A. Lomax, secretary. The fact that more than 26,000 former students of the University reside in Texas and that they are identified with various lines of business and professions gives them an opportunity to exercise great power for the good of the State, according to Mr. Lomax. He urges that all former students become members of the Association. In the statement in regard to the work of the ex-Students' Association he points out that the general purpose of the organization is to make articulate, and therefore effective, that superior interest which every former student of the University holds.

"This interest does not have to be created," he continued. "It exists already but is individual. These loyal individuals need only the outlet of an organization to become an influence of power for the University. To provide such an outlet is our purpose. Something akin to this must have been in the mind of an ex-student when he said that 'we have associated ourselves to render needed and timely services to certain high interests of the University and the Commonwealth.'"

"Through plans adopted in February, 1919, the Association was financed for a period of ten years, five of which have now elapsed. Under this plan the Association operates independently of the University, giving freely all the results of its work to the University, asking in return no financial support from the University. The Association, therefore, is in the position of an unselfish friend. During the five years of operations of the independent association it has made some progress:

"It has made loans to 327 deserving students amounting approximately to $50,000. No student of superior intellectual and moral qualities need leave the University on account of lack of funds if he is willing to borrow money from the Loan Fund at 6 per cent interest.

"Largely through the work of Mr. T. W. Gregory, the gymnasium fund, amounting to more than $50,000, has been accumulated. Mr. Gregory began collecting this fund more than fifteen years ago.

"The Alcaide, 'in creditable form and substance,' has been published each scholastic month—800 pages annually of interesting stories and comment on the institution and the students and former students.

"More than ten thousand dollars have been spent on an ex-Student and Student Directory to be issued January 1, 1925, which will contain the name, address and occupation of every student and former student not hopelessly lost. This service to the University is unique. In every other institution such work is supported by funds from the University itself.

"An attractive ex-Student home has been bought—the Waggener property at 2300 San Antonio Street—and $10,000 paid on it.

"Several five thousand dollar scholarships have been founded with funds now in control of the Executive Council of the Association and W. W. Woodson, President of the First National Bank, Waco, is chairman of a committee to promote such gifts to the University.

"A staff of employees, ranging in numbers from five to ten are working each day on various ex-Students' enterprises, all planned with the sole end in view of helping the University.

"With these and other projects completed, the Association stands ready to back whatever constructive plans that may be adopted by the President of the University and by the Regents. Cooperating with them, the ex-students hope to be of aid in increasing and building up a sound public opinion back of the University, to the end that the checks may be replaced by beautiful buildings; a special tax for the University shall be voted and a fixed income provided, so that stability may be given to its contracts with instructors; an increase in pay for instructors, particularly those of high merit, may be made possible; a different method of selecting to the upper ones. The way the garment looks before it is slashed is shown in Fig. I.

Fig. II illustrates how to sew the medallion on the crepe de chine. First baste down carefully, then overcast to the foundation, taking a stitch in each mesh of the lace.
As the season advances pink is going to be compelled to share favor with orchid as a fashionable shade in lingerie. This fact is perhaps due to the prominence given to purple shades in the newest frocks for semi-formal wear as well as in the latest hats for fall and winter.
Wide laces are also sponsored for the decoration of underthings. Still another detail to be noted in connection with advance models in lingerie is the introduction of the circular effect at the lower edge. This does not begin until several inches below the hips, but it shows that undies follow closely the type and line of the frocks under which they are worn.

VETERAN EDITORS TO MEET DEC. 4, 5, 6, GALVESTON AND HOUSTON

M. E. Foster, president of the Texas Editorial Association, has issued a call for the annual meeting to be held in Galveston December 4 and 5, and Houston December 6.

Following is the official call: Houston, Texas, September 24, 1924. Dear Old Editors:

You are hereby summoned to attend the next meeting of the Texas Editorial Association, which assembled at the Calvez Hotel at Galveston December 4 and 5 and in Houston December 6.

Arrangements are being made for a three day meeting that will be full of fun, fat-duck and friendly fraternizing. It is believed the railroads will make satisfactory transportation arrangements with all the boys who wish to attend, but it is the object of those who will have the pleasure of the Calvez Hotel at Galveston December 4 and 5 and in Houston December 6.

Regents be adopted so that the University may be removed, as far as possible, from the influence of politics.

Dallas-Denton Interurban Line Open For Travel

(By United Press)
DENTON, Sept. 30.—Formal opening of the Dallas-Denton interurban line was held here today with the arrival of three car loads of Dallas delegates over the new line.

The Dallas visitors arrived here at 4 o'clock in the afternoon after a three-hour trip during which several stops were made at intervening stations.

Mayor Louis Blaylock of Dallas headed the visiting party and replied to the welcoming speech by Will C. Edwards, president of the Denton Chamber of Commerce.

Band concerts and additional speakers were on the program. The Dallas party left here shortly after 5 o'clock on the return trip.

Service over the new line will become operative October 1.

gram in hand to make the meeting so attractive that it will be worth waiting to.

A few weeks later a complete program will be ready and this will be sent you. It will tell all about hotel accommodations, what common carriers are willing to do in transporting unaccompanied freight and outline the amusements offered for the three days.

Incidentally the Mayor and the Chamber of Commerce have given us the whole island for the two days we will be there. They put it in writing.

Col. Frank Holland, Col. Louis Blaylock and Col. Bill Sterret have been detailed to secure the ducks. There will be enough fat, juicy deliciously flavored canvas backs and tents there to grease up every shirt front of the entire Fourth Estate.

School Building Closed, Expense Still Goes On

(By United Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 30.—Although the Veteran's Bureau vocational training school was closed here to curtail expenses, the building which housed the school will cost the government $54,000 for the next two years.

In 1922 the site of the school was leased from John T. Wilson for a period of four years for $107,000. Wilson erected 11 buildings at a cost of $80,000 and the structures now lie idle. But the government lease runs two more years.

DAVIS CRETAIN OF DEMOCRATS WINNING IN TEXAS

HOUSTON, Tex., Sep. 26—The importance which John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president, attaches to his support in Texas cannot be stressed too fully, says a statement issued by the Texas headquarters of the Finance Committee, National Democratic Committee, Cotton Exchange Building, now raising funds for Mr. Davis' campaign. The Committee in support of this cites the following from Dean Allen B. Flow-

OPPORTUNITY IN AMERICA

WILLIAM E. KNOX

Radical demagogues sometimes accuse the capitalistic system with favoring the rich and powerful as against the poor and lowly. Fifty-three years ago an Irish lad of nine was brought to the United States by his parents. He went to the public schools and then began work as an office boy. A few days ago, on October 1, he was elected president of the American Bankers Association, the world's largest financial organization. He is president of one of the largest savings banks in the United States, the Bowery Savings Bank of New York City. This election of William E. Knox, who has risen from Irish immigrant to chief of American bankers, is the most striking reminder of the year of the democracy of opportunity in capitalistic America.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On How Not to Make Out Checks

"The most annoying thing has happened, Aunt Emmy," exclaimed Helen. "I sent a check for $5 to the hospital and it's not in their drive and some one cashed it. Isn't it a shame, for one cashed it to send another?" "I don't see how that could happen," said Aunt Emmy, "if you made out the check properly." "Why, of course, I did," Helen said. "I made it out just as I always do, to bearer." Aunt Emmy laughed. "No wonder you lost it!" she said. "Any one at all could cash a check made out like that. It's very careless of you to do it, no matter to whom the check is given. It would only take a few seconds to write the name of the payee over to the name of the bearer. A check made out to 'bearer' may be cashed by any one who gets it. It is regrettable but true that not every one is honest. You know that lots of people would take a five dollar bill if they happened to find it. A check made payable to bearer or to 'cash' is just as tempting to them as a five dollar bill would be."

"But, Aunt, it was so frightfully mean to steal from the hospital!" "You invited this particular theft by neglecting to make your check out properly," Aunt Emmy admonished Helen. "You may be glad your loss is no greater. Even when you go to the bank for money yourself you should not make your check payable to cash. Suppose you should lose it on the way? The same thing that happened to the hospital check might happen to it. Better take an extra minute and make the check out to yourself, sign your name to it as usual and endorse it just as though it were one you received from someone else."

"That seems like a lot of times to sign your own name on one little check, doesn't it, Aunt?" objected Helen.

"It's ever so much better to be on the safe side than to lose your money through carelessness," retorted Aunt Emmy.—Anne B. Ayres.

Government Does Not Own Reserve Banks

In the discussion of the Federal Reserve banks and their operations, undue emphasis has frequently been placed on their relation to the government, and they are frequently called "government banks." As a matter of fact, they are not "government banks" in a true sense, but are corporations organized under an act of Congress, and owned entirely by their member banks. The government does not hold a single share of their stock. The control of the banks' operations is also largely in the hands of the member banks, who elect two-thirds of the Federal Reserve bank directors, the remaining one-third being appointed by the government to represent the interest of the government and the public.

The Federal Reserve banks, it is true, are agents of the government in addition to their other activities, and in this capacity they must follow the instructions of the government in handling transactions which they perform simply as agents. We believe that it is important that the fact that a clear understanding of this point should be generally had, as many of the criticisms made against the Federal Reserve banks have been based on a misapprehension as to their relationship to the government.—American Bankers Association Journal.

West Texas Crop Of Cotton Just Now Being Gined

Cotton pickers are leaving central Texas by the car load lots for points in central west Texas, Stanford, Spur, Haskell and other points being their mecca.

According to Hampton Steele who just returned from that part of Texas, cotton picking was just beginning there when he left some ten days ago. The crop in this county is probably two-thirds gathered. However, in the Western portions many fields are hardly started, and far less than half of the crop is in along the borders of Hill and McLennan Counties.

Most of those going to West Texas fields are negroes, with a few Mexicans and occasionally a white person.

E. R. Gess of the United States Department of Labor has opened offices at the Baylor University Law School of Waco, who recently met Mr. Davis in Denver, as indicating that perhaps no one in the United States is keeping a closer eye on the Texas political situation than Mr. Davis.

"You are from Texas, Judge Flowers?" the Dean quotes Mr. Davis as inquiring. "I am especially happy to meet anyone from Ma Ferguson's State, and have noticed political developments in your State with more than passing interest."

While Mr. Davis is watching the political situation in Texas, he is not worried about the outcome of the November elections in this State, according to Dean Flowers.

"We shall not worry about good old Texas," the Dean quotes the Democratic nominee as saying. "She will be in the Democratic column when the count is finished."

urges that if a person has work at home not to think of leaving as it is not the intention of the department to disturb conditions in any one section for the benefit of another.

CALIFORNIAS TO HELP FIGHT HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE GOV. NEFF ASKS FEDERAL AID TO SAVE CATTLE

DISEASE UNDER CONTROL NOW ALONG WEST COAST

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—Sixteen federal veterinarians from Sacramento, Cal., who have been engaged in the foot and mouth disease fight in California have left for Texas to take up the battle in this state. The disease is practically eradicated in California.

Victorious in the opening fight against the hoof and mouth disease, which apparently is confined to the initial outbreak center of 5,500 acres, and with federal and state funds of $380,000 made available, forces combating the disease today turned their attention to adjoining counties.

Not a single new outbreak has occurred since late Saturday. It was on the area already restricted and under rigorous guard regulations.

Gov. Pat Neff, late Monday afternoon placed $380,000 at the disposal of Dr. Marion Innes, Federal expert on the hoof and mouth disease, in charge of the fight against the disease. Of this amount $280,000 will be held in reserve.

BAVARIANS ALIVE TO RUMOR ABOUT ANOTHER REVOLT

(By United Press) BERLIN, Sept. 30.—After nearly a year of peace, following collapse of the Hitler-Ludendorff "beer cellar" putsch, Bavaria today was alive with rumors of a monarchist uprising.

Police garrisons in Munich were held in a state of "alarm readiness" (readiness for alarm) and Fascists everywhere were placed under surveillance.

Bavarian police today broke up a fascist demonstration near Munich and arrested 13 demonstrators.

The agitation coincides with the date, October 1, originally set for the release of the notorious agitator Adolf Hitler, from jail. If he is released the authorities fear a demonstration and possible attempt at a coup. If he is not released—and it is understood the state attorney has protested against giving Hitler his freedom—it is feared his followers may seize the occasion to start trouble.

"COMMON SENSE ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE CHURCH" DISCUSSED AT VAWTER EVANGELISTIC SERVICE

Interest in the evangelistic meeting at the First Christian church is growing steadily. Aside from the sermons by Dr. Vawter, the music is a big item. Especially unique was the trio played by Mr. House on the Marimba-Xylophone, and Mr. Reaves and Dr. Vawter on the Chimes. They will play Lange's Flower Song Wednesday night.

The children's Bible drill class meets every evening immediately after school, and will give their public demonstration at the regular services on Wednesday night.

Last night the sermon subject was "The church, the body of Christ." The evangelist took his text from the 12th chapter of 1st Corinthians, which he calls a "common sense illustration of the church." The human body represents the church. The head furnishes directions, and is the most important part of the body. Every member of the body is a member by birth. There is no other way by which a member can be a part of the body, but by birth. In John 3:5 we are told that except a man be born again he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. The test of a member is the test of loyalty. A man's hands and feet obey his head. Every member of Christ also obeys Him. To refuse to obey any commandment of His, is to prove that there is no relation or connection. The church is the body of Christ, and the body of Christ is to live eternally. Therefore the man who will not accept Christ and who is not a member of His body will not live eternally, for whoever is not in Christ, is against Him. To be against Christ, is to be a part of the body of sin, which is to be eternally destroyed.

EARTH TREMOR IS HEARD IN OHIO

TEXAS PANTHERS HOLD LEAD OF GAME WITH MEMPHIS

(By United Press) FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 30.—The Fort Worth Panthers, Texas League champions, were holding down a one-game lead over Memphis, Southern Association pennant winners, in the Dixie Championship Series today as the two teams returned to Tennessee to mix again Wednesday.

Victory for Fort Worth Wednesday will end the series giving the Panthers four out of seven games played. The standing Fort Worth 3; Memphis 2; and one game a tie.

The closing game here Monday was a free hitting affair in which the locals put across 14 runs to 8 for the visitors. Wachtel pitching for Fort Worth allowed fourteen hits and eight runs after holding the visitors scoreless for five innings. Rogers on the mound for Memphis yielded 25 hits including four doubles and three homers, bringing the number of circuit clouts collected by local batters to twelve during the series.

In event an eighth game is necessary to decide the series, it will be played at Memphis after Wednesday, Memphis winning the choice by a coin toss here.

Texas Banker Gets Into Limelight In Wall Street Deal

(By United Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—An obscure Texas banker—obscure at least as far as Wall Street is concerned—today undertook to float a $50,000,000 loan for Mexico.

After practically all the big foreign financing firms in the street had given up the task J. L. Arlitt, Austin, Texas, announced the bonds will go on sale today.

They are six per cent gold dollar bonds to yield about nine per cent. Arlitt is understood to be in Austin. The New York end of the deal is being handled by his branch office here. The loan will be guaranteed by oil revenue of the Mexican Government.

The Missionary societies of most local churches held their weekly services Monday afternoon. These ladies organizations are reported to be doing some very interesting and helpful work, with growing memberships almost without exception.

Harrison-Preston Well To Resume Drilling Tuesday

J. E. Winans states that the Harrison et al test on the Preston near the freak and short lived Kosse-Jones well of 1922 spudded in on the 25th. of this month but since then has been waiting to drill further until some minor machinery difficulties had been handled. It was expected that steam would start the drill down sometime Tuesday. Connections have been made with the gasser at Kosse to supply the needed fuel and rapid headway should hereafter be made on the operation.

CHICAGO RIDING ADONIS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

(By United Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—George Munding, "Adonis of Chicago riding masters," and pet of many of society women, is in jail at Wheaton, suburb on a charge of killing his sweetheart Mrs. Julia Abb Douglass, statuette riding mistress. The tragedy occurred last night just outside of Mrs. Douglass' stables at Hinsdale.

Witnesses told police that Munding was intoxicated. A jealous quarrel preceding the shooting of the woman, Mrs. Minnie Abb, step-mother of the victim and other witnesses, told police.

Munding, according to Mrs. Abb, quarreled with Mrs. Douglass over the shooting of a white horse he had placed in her stables. When Mrs. Douglass told him that Robert Plummer, a young automobile salesman had killed the horse because it sustained a fatal injury, Munding went into another rage.

Plummer had paid much attention to Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. Abb said, much to the anger of Munding. After more quarreling Munding seized Mrs. Douglass by the arm, crying:

"If I can't have you then nobody else will."

Munding drew a revolver, pressed it against the woman's stomach and pulled the trigger. Mrs. Douglass died almost immediately. Munding jumped into a machine and drove furiously toward Chicago. Police captured him on a description furnished of his machine.

4000 CHINAMEN DIE IN FIERCE SHANGHAI WAR

(By United Press) SHANGHAI, Sept. 30.—Four thousand Chinese soldiers have fallen in the fierce fighting raging at the gates of Shanghai, the heaviest casualties known to modern warfare.

Machine gun fire and artillery both sides digging in along the bombardments continued today with railroads near Sungkang. Wounded soldiers of the Chekian army are streaming into the city, many of them seeking shelter in the foreign settlements, which already are crowded. Today about 400 badly wounded arrived.

FEDERAL BOARD ACTS ON PARDON OF NEGROES

(By United Press) LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Sept. 30.—The federal pardon board recommended the parole of fifteen negro soldiers, former members of the 24th Infantry, serving sentences for participation in the Houston riots. Prison authorities refused to disclose the names of the prisoners pending Department of Justice action upon the recommendations.

MECCA MAY FALL MOST ANY HOUR SAYS DISPATCH

(By United Press) CAIRO, Sept. 30.—An army of 25,000 Wahibs, bent on capturing Mecca were at the gates of the Holy City today. Mecca's fall was expected hourly. Moslem leaders are endeavoring to summon a world conference of Islam leaders to decide what should be done.

Presbytery Held At Taylor A Very Successful One

Rev. E. H. Hudson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, upon his return recently from the Central Texas Presbytery, reports a most interesting session. Malcolm Lee Purcell of the University Presbyterian church at Austin was received as a candidate for the ministry. He and another young man, Rupert Smith of the First Presbyterian church at Waco were examined for the ministry.

Among other interesting events were the following:

The pastoral relations between Rev. Ernest Sanson and the Maysfield Church were dissolved; also between Rev. F. L. McFadden and the Marlin Church. Rev. Mr. Sanson goes to Houston and Rev. Mr. McFadden goes to Edinburg for post-graduate study.

Mr. J. E. Watts, formerly superintendent of the schools in Taylor, and now superintendent of the Presbyterian Orphan Home at Files Valley. The Orphanage needs $34,000 for the support of about 100 orphans. Last year was closed with a debt of $4,000.

The Presbytery took action designating November 12th for a convocation at Austin, and the 12th of November for a like assembly in Waco, to which conventions all members of the churches of the Presbytery are invited to study stewardship.

Rev. H. R. McFadden was elected chairman of the Presbytery's committee on this subject, instead of Rev. H. L. McFadden, resigned.

The invitation of Leander for the fall meeting was unanimously accepted by a rising vote.

Rev. L. D. Peake was received from the Presbytery of Dallas. Mr. Rupere Smith of Waco is being licensed to preach the gospel.

The Ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Shiloh Methodist church will hold an ice cream supper Friday night on the lawn of the church. They invite their friends at Mecca to be present.

Ben Hunt is a business visitor to Dallas today.

LOVE FOR MINISTER TURNS TO ASHES.

This photograph of Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, of Ina, Ill., was taken in her cell at Salem, Ill., where she was taken for safe keeping after confessing she murdered her husband, Wilford Sweetin, with arsenic at the same time Rev. Lawrence M. Hight killed his wife by the same means, so they might be free to love each other. Her love for the pastor-murderer has turned to ashes since she found he was not the Superman she deemed him. She divides her time in her cell between reading and weeping.

TOURISTS RATES ARE WITHDRAWN

(By United Press) DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 30.—Tourist rates, which have been in effect on all Texas lines out of the state, will be withdrawn at Midnight Tuesday. Regular rates will be in effect Wednesday.

The parsonage of the Methodist circuit here has been given some new touches inside, according to Rev. G. W. Kinchloe, the pastor. The Mecca charge is expected to carry a splendid report to conference at Brownwood.

WIDOW ACCUSED OF MURDERING HUSBAND AT HOUSTON

(By United Press) HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Susie Cook, widow of George Cook, wealthy contractor here, and Ben Carson, nephew of Cook, were indicted by the grand jury charged with the murder of Cook. Cook's slayer was supposed to have concealed himself in a secret staircase following the shooting July 20. Cook was slain with his own revolver stolen from his room.

Mary's Ankle Brings Down House Monday

"Mary's Ankle," now being presented at the Opera House by the Edna Park Players, is the best show that has been produced by this company since their arrival in our city, in the opinion of the critics.

This play, as all others produced by the Edna Park company is a good, clean and wholesome drama, which will be enjoyed by men, women and children alike. You may feel safe in taking your wife, sweetheart or daughter to this play and know that nothing of an offensive nature will be played.

The story is good comedy from beginning to end, do not come to this show unless you will enjoy several hours of good comedy. Two young professional men, one a doctor, the other a lawyer and their chum, a would-be financier, are all trying to get ahead in the world.

Their various means of raising money for a meal ticket would make a smile come across the sphynx face. Edna Park is at her best as the daughter of the landlady, whose duty it is to keep up the house and take care of an invalid mother. This is one of the best comedies that has ever been to this city and you will not be disappointed in seeing it.

S. E. Colgin and T. Frank Smith of Dallas were Mecca visitors Tuesday.

County Clerk J. L. Day was a Mecca visitor Monday. Tom Groesbeck.

DECISION MADE FOLLOWING AN INSPECTION TOUR

(By United Press) AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Governor Neff has wired the Department of Agriculture in Washington, requesting the federal government to take charge of the fight against the foot and mouth disease in Southeast Texas. Governor Neff said the situation is serious and threatening the commercial life of the state. The decision to call for federal supervision was made following a tour of inspection in the infected area where 2000 head of cattle have been prescribed.

PROTESTANTS & IRISH CATHOLICS DIFFER ON LINE

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The battle of the Boyne, centuries old struggle between Protestant and Catholic over the boundary line between the north and south of Ireland, was carried in to parliament today at a special session called by Prime Minister MacDonald.

The Irish Free State and Ulster having declined to agree between themselves on a settlement, Britain's Labor Government proposes to move a bill which will amend the Irish treaty and establish a boundary commission to settle the matter arbitrarily.

Prison Farm Is Placed On Honor

(By United Press) SUGARLAND, Texas, Sept. 30.—Texas' first honor prison farm became a reality Monday.

Filing past governor Neff and his party, 122 convicts, pick of all the states farms, received a hearty hand clasp from the chief executive and his staff.

With their transformation, guards came "honor men." Locks, bloodhounds, and all other trappings and terrors of prison life became things of the past. Honor is the only thing that took their place.

Following the convicts' reception by the Governor, the men presented him a gold fountain pen with the suggestion "that he use it occasionally." Governor Neff laughed. After the opening services the men changed from the somber green prison garb to the new blue uniforms of the honor system and a barbecue dinner was served at which Neff made a brief speech.

Columbia Faces Stiff Schedule

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Apropos of Columbia's football schedule this season, many experts believe that Percy Naughton, the Blue and White's coach, has bitten off more than he can chew. The schedule includes games with Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and the Army, four of the most powerful teams in the East.

One faction among the under graduates is of the opinion that Columbia should defeat Pennsylvania or Cornell before taking on such teams as Syracuse and the Army. The first two eleven have beaten Columbia regularly since gridiron relations were resumed after the war.

Remodelled Back Field From A.&M. To Contest Sewanee

DALLAS Texas, Sept. 30.—A remodelled back-field will be tried by the Aggies when the teams meets Sewanee at Fair Park Stadium on Saturday, October 11 as the first big game of the Fair schedule and the biggest attraction offered North Texas fans this year in the line of competition between rival sections.

Offense was not the strong point of the Aggies in their unsuccessful 1923 campaign. The defense was good enough to hold the opposing teams to small scores but the punch was lacking to make that style of defense sufficient. The Aggies needs two or three touchdowns to win in their Conference games. They did not get them. Small wonder then that considerable attention will be devoted this year to building up the attack.

Sewanee offers a real test for the development of the offense, which this year is hoped to be a good combination of the running, plunging, and passing game. Bear in mind that last year the Aggies were without the service of "Ellen" Miller, captain-elect then and captain now, a dependable punter, an accurate short and long passer and the year before the only running back the Aggies had.

This year, the Farmers have two striking threats in Fay Wilson and Madar, the passing game of the pilot, and the running and plunging attack is expected to be far stronger. Much dependence for the back-field success is placed on the development at quarter of "Mit" Dansey and young Perry who are expected to get away from the old signal calling idea and regardless of which is working to add to the offense.

Special rates have been arranged for all trains into Dallas for the Aggie-Sewanee game.

SPORTLIGHTS

After the game which the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University played with Denton Normal Saturday and only won after a stubborn battle and a five yard penalty on the opponents ten yard line they resumed practice Monday afternoon. Coach Morrison will certainly put his men through a tough week according to the workout which he gave them the first day of the week, and after a game that is usually a day for a light practice.

But the showing that the veteran team made against a young and inexperienced team makes it plain to the coaches that they need plenty of work they are going to get in any kind of shape for the tough assignment with Trinity Saturday. Although the Texas Aggies defeated them by a score of 33 to 0, the College Station team was able to do nothing during the first half of the game. It was only after they had worn them down by a continual stream of fresh men entering the game.

Taking into consideration the fact that Mustangs have not the weight of the Aggies have not the reserves.

The Art of Beauty

By B. M. DOUGLAS

EGYPTIAN WOMEN 4,000 YEARS AGO EXPERTS IN COSMETIC ART

THROUGH the ages woman's chief attention in beauty matters has been centered on her complexion. Even in the Dark Ages, when prepared creams and lotions were unknown, women had their pet recipes, often very primitive, for bleaching, softening, and purifying the skin.

The Gauls, who excited the envy and admiration of the Romans by their clear complexions, bathed in beer and washed their faces in its foam. They also used chalk dissolved in vinegar and the foam of beer as a beautifier. Poppaea, wife of Nero, covered her face every night with a poultice made of bread and the milk of wild asses. Madame de Pompadour's "night lotion" was an application of raw beef steak.

The ancient Egyptians were believers in the beautifying effects of water, and a bath in their revered Bourjois Beauty Syndicate

Nile which they looked upon as a sort of deity, was a favorite beauty treatment. The Egyptian woman also mixed certain ingredients in a dish of butter, set this mixture out of doors to melt, and then applied it to her face. Women of the Egyptian nobility, 4000 years ago, even had two kinds of rouge, an orange toned rouge, much like our Mandarin rouge of to-day, for their olive-tinted skin, and a red rouge for their lips. Their eyes were carefully made up with kohl, a mixture made from black oxide of manganese or the black powder of burnt almonds, applied with a bodkin.

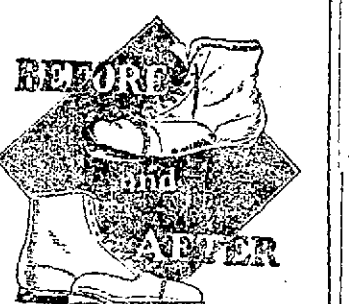

As an indication of the importance attributed to the artificial beautifying of the body in those days, it will be noted that even after combing the faces of Egyptian women of high rank were painstakingly rouged and their eyebrows painted with antimony.

Coming down farther through the centuries, although the "cosmetics" in favor during the Renaissance were elemental in nature, they were nevertheless, luxurious. Madame de Maitenon, for example, bathed in the juice of crushed strawberries. Plain water bathing was not much thought of as an adjunct to beauty. When Diane de Poitiers, royal mistress of Henry II, kept her skin clear and white by rising at 5 o'clock every morning to take a cold bath, it was considered so unusual that a legend had to be invented in explanation, so it was said that she took a bath in a tub filled with crushed gold.

and also the fact that the Trinity team will be in much better condition than they were against the Aggies, you will have the most of that 33 to 0 score accounted for. And on top of that the Mustangs are forced to hold back everything possible for the Austin College and Texas games which come the following two weeks. This will tend to show the fans whether or not the Mustangs have the power to be in the race for the conference crown.

The following is taken from the daily press today, bearing a Marlin date line, indicating that Itasca, the next Black Cat foe looms as a district leader for the pennant, while Mexia High is not mentioned. Friday will give the Cats a chance to condemn the opinion. Here's what the Marlin fan says:

Both Belton and Itasca loom as formidable contenders in the Marlin district of the Class B division of the Texas interscholastic League football race. Belton defeated McGregor, 6 to 0, Friday, while Itasca held the strong class A Hillsboro High School team to a scoreless tie, causing fans to class the Itascans as a strong grid-iron squad. Of further interest to Bulldog fans is the 83 to 0 victory of the Waco Tigers over Clifton, which was not a surprise. Marlin had a game scheduled with Clifton for Oct. 31, which is likely to be cancelled because of the evident weakness of the Cliftonites. It is said the Waxahachie High School Indians had thrown a scare in to the Waco Tiger camp by defeating the Terrel High School squad, another class A contender, by a count of 93 to 7, however, the Marlin Tiger fans believe that Tyson will have a championship team again, notwithstanding reports contrarywise.

The score of Corsicana High against Kerens of 32 to 0 was not unexpected, but reports are turning out the dope that the Corsicanans will be in the championship race for football honors this year.

The Black Cats are working long and late in whipping into shape for the game with Itasca Friday. Those who see Poteet's proteges in action on that day will see a gentleman's game worth seeing and will not have occasion to feel ashamed of Mexia's offering.

the past Masonic year, according to Grand Secretary W. B. Pearson of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas.

Springfield lodge at Mexia has been a part of this growth and increase, as the lodge here has gone through one of the busiest twelve months' periods in which interest in Freemasonry has been very pronounced.

The total membership in Texas now is 129,000. These belong to lodges that number around 1,000. Mexia Springfield lodge is number 74.

Reports of these lodges are made annually, on June 24.

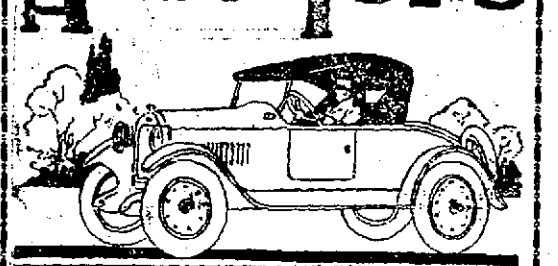

The reports of all lodges have been tabulated and the information in the reports, all classified by the department of Grand Secretary W. B. Pearson, is now ready for the meeting of the Grand lodge and other grand Masonic bodies early in December.

The first meeting of Masons, preliminary to the meeting of the grand bodies will be held late in November, when the committee on work, or school of instruction, will be held, this being about a week before the meeting of the Grand Royal Arch chapter of which T. M. Bartley of Waco is grand secretary. The Grand chapter also has shown a fine increase in membership for the year. Following the meeting of the Grand chapter, Grand lodge and Grand council will come a meeting of the committee on work of the Blue lodge. And in all, Masons of the state will be in Waco for nearly a month, beginning with late November. Some of these will come and go, but there will be several meetings from first to last.

MEXIA PARTIES SEE GRANDEUR OF YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK WHILE ON TRIP TO FAR NORTHWEST

By FRED S. KARNER.

From Humphreys Lodge we turned the benzine buggy toward Yellowstone Park, traversing the Grand Canyon from Salida Colorado into Canyon City. There is sixty miles of this ever turning road and with the swift waters of the river churning their way thru the granite holders and gliding quietly thru some pool as if to rest on their mad rush, the tourist gets an ever changing view of a cosmic drama on which the curtain—save that of nite—is never drawn. On thru Denver and out the Brighton Speedway the highway leads thru the vast expanse of mile upon mile and endless apron of acres as they skirt in the far distance the majestic range of mountains. One marvels at the mighty lay of land and you have a feeling of uncertainty as your bewildered gaze grasps the view before you. It all seems endless and you feel alone on earth—no matter how many are with you.

There is an empty void on these plains that make you feel you want to get close to some one by being closer to nature. There is a kinship you feel and at the same time space appeals to you there as no where else, for you feel your helplessness. It may be the Creator's lay for a silent sermon where the utmost researches of man's vanity is laid bleak and bare and he yearns for a companionship that is expressed in the secret void about him, and yet in an unknown language. No one can appreciate what space is and what it is like until he has seen and "felt" the plains of Wyoming.

On thru Cheyenne and Casper and thru the hot springs of Thermopolis into Cody.

Cody, Wyoming as you know was founded by and is named after that peerless scout and Indian fighter Wm. Cody better known to history as Buffalo Bill. There we found the Irma Hotel named after his daughter who is now married and living in Cody. The hotel is full of relics of the chase and many pictures all portraying important epochs in the life of Buffalo Bill. Here proper the West begins and yet it is so modern that were it not for the broad brimmed hats and high heeled boots worn by both men and women you would think yourself just "forty-five minutes from Broadway."

It is thru Cody that you leave for the eastern entrance of Yellowstone Park. But before reaching the entrance you traverse about twelve miles of your route thru beautiful "Shoshone Canyon. This is a more less dangerous gorge drive with narrow roadways and perilous turns—short and abrupt. It is in this canyon you pass the second highest dam in the world—that of Shoshone and with the immense lake that it forms gives you the first glimpse you have had of God's bounty and man's ingenuity. For with the melting snow of the mountains and the immense artificial dam constructed by our Government the desert blooms into a rose garden and is verdant with food crops.

It is then not far to Yellowstone and on approaching the entrance you are hailed by gate-keepers who register you and your car and seal any firearms that you might carry. Yellowstone Park has wonderful accommodations for its guests. Besides hotels at each of the main sight-seeing points you can take your choice of what are called "camps." These are duck covered one room quarters with curtains forming a partition and in each two rooms can be arranged by using the curtains. There are also small stoves, and you realize that you have every convenience. Each morning when the "pack-rat" at your door yells "Fire"—he wants to know if you want a fire in your stove. It is very cold in the evenings and heavy cover is needed all thru the summer months and a glowing fire is welcomed in your stove each morning. In mid-day the air is balmy and warm and you are ready for the sights and hikes. Each evening after a most bountiful meal in the Camp Dining hall which accommodates twelve hundred guests you are invited to join in a Camp fire sing-song after which is a concert given by "the help" of the Camp. Just here let me state that this "help" are both boys and girls that are working their way thru some college and the organization that owns and controls the camp concession hire them with no large remuneration, but sufficient with their living expenses to allow them to spend their summer at this wonderful Government resort. They have given them most peculiar names a few of which I will give you.

The maids are called "pillow-pushers" the porters "pack-rats"—the waitresses "heavers" the drivers of busses "gear-jammers" and the dish-washers "pearl-divers." They are all cultured boys and girls from the best homes of America and the association is the very best. After the concert in the evening there is a large ball room for those that love the "wicked-foot" exercise and then for the aged and antique they have the popcorn by the camp fire with the story hour and family chats. As the busses arrive they are "sung-in" by the girls with their youthful voices and accompanied with their ukeleles and then "sung out" as they leave. It gives you a feeling of welcome as you arrive and one of regret as you wave goodbye. The first camp you come to from the East is Lake Camp. Here is the great and placid Yellowstone Lake—crystal blue and immense in expanse. It nestles there among the mountains over seven thousand feet above sea level and is one of the most beautiful bodies of water in the world. From Lake Camp one drives over the wonderful mountain roads north thru ever changing scenery to what is known as Canon Camp. It is here that you get a view of The Yellowstone Falls. There are two of these falls—the lower being the larger of the two. The fall is over three hundred feet into the canon and with two rainbows glistening in the sunlight and the never ceasing roar of the falls is a never-to-be-forgotten sight. The climb down into the canon below the falls is a perpendicular descent that takes both skill and courage. However, many make the trip down and the climb back, but pay with sore limbs the day following. It is worth all the effort for the Falls are in a class with Niagara. In fact from the aesthetic view-point they are more beautiful but not as mighty. Here it is also that many go out to the bear's feeding grounds and watch these wild animals in their native haunts.

From Canon Camp it is about a thirty mile drive to the Northern most entrance camp that you reach from the outside thru Gardner, Montana. This is known as Mammoth Camp and here it is that the Angels terrace is seen. This is a fantastic formation in terrace order and with the prismatic coloring left by deposits of the water from many centuries of flowing.

After leaving Mammoth camp you turn South and after about a forty mile drive thru Madison Junction come to the most talked-of Camp in the Park—that of Old Faithful. It is named after the geyser that bears that historic name and flows every sixty-five minutes with its water rising over a hundred feet in a wild rush and spray. This hot water comes from or thru a crater of several feet in circumference that reminds one very much of the opening of a volcano. All around this section of the Park are many hot water geysers, in fact the entire surface seemed to be dotted with these steaming and hissing reminders of a hotter place below.

The Park is a Nation Shrine dedicated to Nature and all Americans are interested in its preservation. Wild animals make their home in its mountains—valleys and canyons unmolested by man. Bears meet you in the road and feast on whatever manner of food you might have.

There are no railways in the park and none will be allowed. Conveyance is strictly by private car or bus. A charge of seven dollars and fifty cents is made for any one entering with a private car. Auto camps are at each hand every Camping place and all arranged with plenty of water and conveniences incident to camping life. Many avail themselves of this feature and many people get to see the Park and its wonders at small expense thru this medium of travel and arrangement of living while within its borders.

Man finds a touch of the Infinite in these confines. Personally I feel that if the unbeliever were to enter Yellowstone Park—cast aside his shell of crusty prejudice, open his mind to honest conviction and view The Creator's handicraft thru eyes of searching truth, the painted veil of doubt would fall before his vision and he would feel Divine presence bidding him be true to his own self. Reason unlocks the door of false teachings and conception and nature such as you find here in the Park is the magic key of deliverance.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS VISITED BY FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

The appearance of foot-and-mouth disease on a ranch 15 miles south of Houston, Texas, has resulted in an order by the United States Department of Agriculture quarantining Galveston and Harris Counties, and portions of Brazoria and Fort Bend counties. The disease was not definitely diagnosed as the dread cattle scourge, foot-and-mouth disease until Saturday, September 27, but telegraphic reports received by the Department September 26 so clearly indicated the disease that quarantine orders were issued immediately that day and active control measures begun.

The new outbreak is in no way connected with the infection which appeared in California last winter and which has been suppressed. A preliminary survey of the Texas situation gives strong indication that the infection entered surreptitiously from South America through a gulf port.

The Bureau of Animal Industry immediately assigned 42 experienced inspectors to the suppression of the disease in the region quarantined. Most of these veterinarians are on the ground, others being enroute. Texas officials have signed a contract for cooperation, and steam shovels worked all Friday night preparing a trench for the slaughter of the infected cattle. The usual methods of quarantine, inspection, appraisal, slaughter, and deep burial, resulting in the suppression of other outbreaks, will be followed.

Mr. J. Boog Scott, chairman of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, and Dr. Leon Cloud, State Veterinarian of Texas, are on the ground actively, cooperating with federal forces in directing the work. The United States Department of Agriculture is represented by Dr. L. J. Allen, inspector in charge of veterinary field work in Texas, and by Dr. T. W. Cole, his assistant. Dr. Marion Innes, a Federal veterinarian of long experience in foot-and-mouth disease control, is en route to Houston and will direct the Federal force in the work of eradication.

Thus far the disease, which appeared in one outfit of 400 cattle, has spread to only one additional herd which is on an adjacent ranch. The terrain is flat, cattle in the region are accustomed to handling and most of the surrounding ranches are under fence. In fact the conditions in general are favorable for the eradication work. The Department of Agriculture has notified livestock authorities and sanitary officials of the various States.

With the curtailment of the inroads of this dread, deadly and disastrous disease, the department has again proven its right to the friendliest sort of cooperation on the part of the entire public. Constantly, the wisdom of having a Livestock Sanitary Commission, too, is made evident. Cattle and human life are both safeguarded by such prompt and thorough methods as have been adopted near Houston.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE WAR IN CHINA.

(Corsianna Sun)

It is probably quite clear to the American people that the civil war in China is not shared in any sense the Chinese people. The involvement of the Chinese people is limited to destruction of their crops by flooding, destruction of other property, and misappropriation of their money for army purposes. But they themselves are not in the war, have no stake in it and have no particular cause for rejoicing or weeping whichever side wins.

It is a very long day since the Chinese people had anything to do with their so-called national affairs; and it is going to be a very long day before they ever do control them. China is ruled by military leaders who dispute each other's authority. The present battle is nominally a struggle for the rich territory adjacent to Shanghai. The battle line between Chang of Manchuria and Wu, the Pei-hsin commander-in-chief, is to settle the issue whether Chang or Wu shall rule China, and it has no relevance whatever to the voice or wish of the Chinese people.

Wu believes in unification by force and then rule by an army-supported government. Chang believes in much the same thing but is suspected of a design to reseat the Manchus in the person of the boy emperor. Wu would remove first, Lu, whose grip on Shanghai started the rumpus, then Sun, and finally Chang. Chang has precisely the same problem, only that he would remove Lu's enemy, Chi, and then Wu, and finally Sun. If there is any difference between the two chief rivals it is that Chang is a friend of Japan and his protege, Lu, is the leader of the Anfu, the pro-Japanese party, while Wu is strictly pro-Chinese along his own lines.

The struggle is important because obviously the future of the Chinese people is involved. It is important to this country because many businesses here depend on regular shipments from Shanghai, which are now held up. But the Chinese people are in no way to blame for it. They are ruled by the militarists who maintain themselves with mercenaries paid chiefly from public revenue diverted from their rightful purposes.

Mexicans Thick In Section During Cotton Picking

During cotton picking time, many Mexicans are to be seen in this section of Texas. For the past several days, entire families have been seen on the streets of Mexia. In some instances, they remind one of the customs of Old Mexico as they squat in groups along the sidewalks. Entire families, big families of all ages have been noted huddled up with their worldly goods wrapped in a bundle waiting for a train to carry them to the next stop. Almost any day or night, these scenes are enacted. When the babies and little fellows grow weary, they are to be seen lying down on the ground, with their mother's shawl or a rag of some sort for a pillow and sometimes with a knitted scarf of bright color for a covering.

LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER NEW HIGHWAY LAW AMENDMENT

Submission of an amendment to the State Constitution which would give the State authority to construct and maintain a connected system of highways is to be sought by the Texas Highway Association during the next session of the Legislature, according to a statement issued Saturday by W. E. Lea of Orange, newly elected president of the association.

Adoption of such an amendment, Lea declared, is imperative if Texas is to continue to receive Federal aid in the construction of highways. The Act of Congress providing for the granting of such aid provides specifically that it shall be extended, after a certain date, to only those states which provide adequate authority to a properly authorized agency of the state to construct, maintain and operate a state system of public highways.

Officers of the association do not anticipate any difficulty in getting the Legislature to submit the proposed amendment to the voters, Lea said. And once it has passed the legislative stage, the association has pledged itself to do all within its power to insure its adoption at the polls. The organization, Lea said, has 6,000 members in every part of the state who will cooperate in this work. Among other legislative matters which the association has voted to call to the attention of the Thirty-Ninth Legislature, which convenes in Austin next January, are the following.

Further careful consideration of sources of revenue for the construction and maintenance and always in accordance with the public demand. The experience of Texas, as of every other state in the Union, indicates the wastefulness of the policy of expending large sums in the construction of cheap types of public roads, that from the very nature of their construction, can be considered only temporary in character. We urge the building of more lasting improvements, except in those localities where local materials are available and can be used economically.

A comprehensive statute for the regulation of common carriers. A statute regulating the use of headlights upon public highways.

At a recent convention of the association, resolutions were adopted urging strict enforcement of the laws regulating the operation of motor trucks upon the public highways.

The association also commended the State Highway Department for the "efficient policy developed" in the administration of highway laws passed by the last Legislature. This resolution, according to President Lea, was prompted by the results obtained by the department since it took charge of highway maintenance on January 1, 1924. Appreciation of the association also was expressed to "the press of the State" for its valuable cooperation in educating the public to a greater appreciation of good roads.

In addition to Lea, officers of the association are:

Clifford B. Jones, Spur; W. S. Whaley, Cleburne; O. P. Archer, McAllen; Henry Sackett, Coleman; C. E. E. Holland, Houston; Arch C. Allen, Dallas; Howard Bland, Taylor; Lee Morris, Chico; A. B. Mayhew, Uvalde; Ellis Boyd, Fort Worth; Tucker Royall, Palestine; Leonard Tillotson, Senly; and C. H. Walker, Dalhart, Vice presidents.

The following, constitute the new board of directors:

W. V. Crawford of Waco, immediate past president; George C. Holmgren, San Antonio; E. Eikel, New Braunfels; George B. Dealey, Dallas; W. H. Richardson, Austin; W. D. Haden, Galveston; W. B. Marsh, Tyler; A. C. Love, Beaumont; I. G. Wirtz, Sugarland; A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton; Earnest O. Thompson, Amarillo; W. D. Cline, Wichita Falls and O. C. Dancy, Brownsville.

San Antonio To Insure Teachers

(By United Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 30.—San Antonio school teachers are to be insured for a total of $850,000. A company was recently selected to write the policies. San Antonio is said to be the first city in the country to adopt the group insurance plan for public teachers. Plans call for $1,000 policies for 850 teachers. It is estimated the cost to the school board will average $8 per year per teacher.

LONGHORN COACH DRIVES HARDER AFTER GAME SATURDAY

By MOULTON COBB.
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 30.—Although the University of Texas Longhorns defeated the veteran Southwestern University team Saturday by a decisive margin, Coach Doc Stewart is drilling his players harder than ever for the game with Phillips University of Enid, Okla., next Saturday, even though the score was 27 to 0.
"We earned only one touchdown in the game and that was the first one we scored," said Coach Stewart. "One of the other touchdowns was the result of a Pirate fumble and the third an accident. We kicked two field goals, but when a team has to resort to field goal kicking it is a sign of weakness and not of strength."

Stuart Wright of Dallas, who is new to Longhorn supporters, made the best impression of any of the backfield men. He punted well with the wind but one attempt against the wind was a poor kick. Capt. Jim Marley was hardly up to his standard, while Hubert Foster, at quarterback, got away with several long runs but did not come up to the standard of Bobby Robertson, last year's quarter. Sailor Shearer did well at half back but was shifted to end in the second period. He was the star performer of the day, his blocking being marvelous.

Mat Newell at guard, Bub Sprague at tackle, and Cotton Dayvault at guard showed up best on the line for the Longhorns. Capt. K. L. Berry, after being out nine years, tried a comeback, but did only fairly well. Harry Pfannkuche at center, and Ben Allen and Clint Slover at ends were the other new players in the Longhorn defense.

"A team is no stronger than its substitutes," is an old saying in sports, which applies particularly to baseball and football. Last year the Longhorns had eleven good substitutes, which are eleven more than they have this year. As long as Coach Stewart can keep his first team intact, he will have a formidable aggregation.

LOMAX REVIEWS PURPOSE AND WORK OF EXES

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 30.—An interesting review of the work and purposes of the ex-Students' Association of the University of Texas has just been prepared by John A. Lomax, secretary. The fact that more than 25,000 former students of the University reside in Texas and that they are identified with various lines of business and professions gives them an opportunity to exercise great power for the good of the State, according to Mr. Lomax. He urges that all former students become members of the Association. In the statement in regard to the work of the ex-Students' Association he points out that the general purpose of the organization is to make articulate, and therefore effective, that superior interest which every former student of the University holds.

"This interest does not have to be created," he continued. "It exists already but is individual. These loyal individuals need only the outlet of an organization to become an influence of power for the University. To provide such an outlet is our purpose. Something akin to this must have been in the mind of an ex-student when he said that 'we have associated ourselves to render needed and timely services to certain high interests of the University and the Commonwealth.'"

"Through plans adopted in February, 1919, the Association was financed for a period of ten years, five of which have now elapsed. Under this plan the Association operates independently of the University, giving freely all the results of its work to the University, asking in return no financial support from the University. The Association, therefore, is in the position of an unselfish friend. During the five years of operations of the independent association it has made some progress:

"It has made loans to 325 deserving students amounting approximately to $50,000. No student of superior intellectual and moral qualities need leave the University on account of lack of funds if he is willing to borrow money from the Loan Fund at 6 per cent interest.

"Largely through the work of Mr. T. W. Gregory, the gymnasium fund, amounting to more than $50,000, has been accumulated. Mr. Gregory began collecting this fund more than fifteen years ago.

"The Alcaide, in creditable form and substance, has been published each scholastic month—800 pages annually of interesting stories and comment on the institution and the students and former students.

"More than ten thousand dollars have been spent on an ex-Student and Student Directory to be issued January 1, 1925, which will contain the name, address and occupation of every student and former student not hopelessly lost. This service to the University is unique. In every other institution such work is supported by funds from the University itself.

"An attractive ex-Student home has been bought—the Waggener property at 2300 San Antonio Street—and $10,000 paid on it.

"Several five thousand dollar scholarships have been founded with funds now in control of the Executive Council of the Association and W. W. Woodson, President of the First National Bank, Waco, is chairman of a committee to promote such gifts to the University.

"A staff of employees, ranging in numbers from five to ten are working each day on various ex-Students enterprises, all planned with the sole end in view of helping the University.

"With these and other projects completed, the Association stands ready to back whatever constructive plans that may be adopted by the President of the University and by the Regents. Cooperating with them, the ex-Students hope to be of aid in influencing and building up a sound public opinion back of the University, to the end that the slacks may be replaced by beautiful buildings; a special tax for the University shall be voted and a fixed income provided, so that stability may be given to its contracts with instructors; an increase in pay for instructors, particularly those of high merit, may be made possible; a different method of selecting

The Fall Lingerie Silhouette

Much Lace Used on Undies

The fashionable silhouettes exact its share of sacrifice from the garments that are worn under it, reducing them to a minimum of both numbers and materials. This combination is made of crepe de chine.

Soft, subtle and sensuous this combination is one of the latest Parisian triumphs. It requires only 1 1/2 yards of silk to make, with an intricate pattern to trim as the fancy dictates. The front and back of the combination are in flat effect, the sides being slashed inward from the seams, then gathered and the lower edges sewed to the upper ones. The way the garment looks before it is slashed is shown in Fig. I.

Fig. II illustrates how to sew the medallion on the crepe de chine. First baste down carefully, then overcast to the foundation, taking a stitch in each mesh of the lace.

As the season advances pink is going to be compelled to share favor with orchid as a fashionable shade in lingerie. This fact is perhaps due to the prominence given to purple shades in the newest frocks for semi-formal wear as well as in the latest hats for fall and winter.

Wide laces are also sponsored for the decoration of underthings. Still another detail to be noted in connection with advance models in lingerie is the introduction of the circular effect at the lower edge. This does not begin until several inches below the hips, but it shows that undies follow closely the type and line of the frocks under which they are worn.

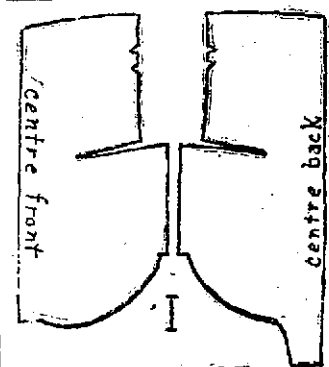

Fig. I.—Showing construction of garment.

Fig. II.—Sewing on lace medallions.

Dallas-Denton Interurban Line Open For Travel

(By United Press) DENTON, Sept. 30.—Formal opening of the Dallas-Denton interurban line was held here today with the arrival of three car loads of Dallas delegates over the new line.

The Dallas visitors arrived here at 4 o'clock in the afternoon after a three-hour trip during which several stops were made at intervening stations.

Mayor Louis Blaylock of Dallas headed the visiting party and replied to the welcoming speech by Will C. Edwards, president of the Denton Chamber of Commerce.

Band concerts and additional speakers were on the program. The Dallas party left here shortly after 5 o'clock on the return trip.

Service over the new line will become operative October 1.

gram in hand to make the meeting so attractive that it will be worth waiting to.

A few weeks later a complete program will be ready and this will be sent you. It will tell all about hotel accommodations, what common carriers are willing to do in transporting uncommon freight and outline the amusements offered for the three days.

Incidentally the Mayor and the Chamber of Commerce have given us the whole island for the two days we will be there. They put it in writing.

Col. Frank Holland, Col. Louis Blaylock and Col. Bill Sterret have been detailed to secure the ducks. There will be enough fat, juicy deliciously flavored canvas backs and teal there to grease up every shirt front of the entire Fourth Estate.

School Building Closed, Expense Still Goes On

(By United Press) SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 30.—Although the Veteran's Bureau vocational training school was closed here to curtail expenses, the building which housed the school will cost the government $54,000 for the next two years.

In 1922 the site of the school was leased from John T. Wilson for a period of four years for $107,000. Wilson erected 11 buildings at a cost of $80,000 and the structures now lie idle. But the government lease runs two more years.

WILLIAM E. KNOX

Radical demagogues sometimes accuse the capitalistic system with favoring the rich and powerful as against the poor and lowly. Fifty-three years ago an Irish lad of nine was brought to the United States by his parents. He went to the public schools and then began work as an office boy. A few days ago, on October 1, he was elected president of the American Bankers Association, the world's largest financial organization. He is president of one of the largest savings banks in the United States, the Bowers Savings Bank of New York City. This election of William E. Knox, who has risen from Irish immigrant to chief of American bankers, is the most striking reminder of the year of the democracy of opportunity in capitalistic America.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On How Not to Make Out Checks

"The most annoying thing has happened, Aunt Emmy," exclaimed Helen. "I sent a check for $5 to the hospital to help them in their drive and some one cashed it. Isn't it a shame, for I simply can't afford to send another." "I don't see how that could happen," said Aunt Emmy. "If you made out the check properly."

"Why, of course, I did," Helen said. "I made it out just as I always do to 'bearer'."

Aunt Emmy laughed. "No wonder you lost it!" she said. "Any one at all could cash a check made out like that. It's very careless of you to do it, no matter to whom the check is given. It would only take a few seconds to write the name of the payee properly. A check made out to 'bearer' may be cashed by any one who gets it. It is regrettable but true that not every one is honest. You know that lots of people would take a five dollar bill if they happened to find it. A check made payable to bearer or to 'cash' is just as tempting to them as a five dollar bill would be."

"But, Aunt, it was so frightfully mean to steal from the hospital!"

"You invited this particular theft by neglecting to make your check out properly," Aunt Emmy admonished Helen. "You may be glad your loss is no greater. Even when you go to the bank for money yourself you should not make your check payable to cash. Suppose you should lose it on the way? The same thing that happened to the hospital check might happen to it. Better take an extra minute and make the check out to yourself, sign your name to it as usual and endorse it just as though it were one you received from someone else."

"That seems like a lot of times to sign your own name on one little check, doesn't it, Aunt?" objected Helen.

"It's ever so much better to be on the safe side than to lose your money through carelessness," retorted Aunt Emmy. —Anne B. Ayres.

Government Does Not Own Reserve Banks

In the discussion of the Federal Reserve banks and their operations, undue emphasis has frequently been placed on their relation to the government, and they are frequently called "government banks." As a matter of fact, they are not "government banks" in a true sense, but are corporations organized under an act of Congress, and owned entirely by their member banks. The government does not hold a single share of their stock. The control of the banks' operations is also largely in the hands of the member banks, who elect two-thirds of the Federal Reserve bank directors, the remaining one-third being appointed by the government to represent the interest of the government and the public.

The Federal Reserve banks, it is true, are agents of the government in addition to their other activities, and in this capacity they must follow the instructions of the government in handling transactions which they perform simply as agents. We believe that it is important that the fact that a clear understanding of this point should be generally had, as many of the criticisms made against the Federal Reserve banks have been based on a misapprehension as to their relationship to the government. —American Bankers Association Journal.

West Texas Crop Of Cotton Just Now Being Gined

Cotton pickers are leaving central Texas by the car load lots for points in central west Texas, Stamford, Spur, Haskell and other points being their mecca.

According to Hampton Steele who just returned from that part of Texas, cotton picking was just beginning there when he left some ten days ago. The crop in this county is probably two-thirds gathered. However, in the Western portions many fields are hardly started, and far less than half of the crop is in along the borders of Hill and McLennan Counties.

Most of those going to West Texas fields are negroes, with a few Mexicans and occasionally a white person.

E. R. Goss of the United States Department of Labor has opened offices of the Baylor University Law School of Waco, who recently met Mr. Davis in Denver, as indicating that perhaps no one in the United States is keeping a closer eye on the Texas political situation than Mr. Davis.

"You are from Texas, Judge Flowers?" the Dean quotes Mr. Davis as inquiring. "I am especially happy to meet anyone from Mr. Ferguson's State, and have noticed political developments in your State with more than passing interest."

While Mr. Davis is watching the political situation in Texas, he is not worried about the outcome of the November elections in this State, according to Dean Flowers.

"We shall not worry about good old Texas," the Dean quotes the Democratic nominee as saying. "She will be in the Democratic column when the count is finished."

urges that if a person has work at home not to think of leaving as it is not the intention of the department to disturb conditions in any one section for the benefit of another.

INVESTIGATIONS ABANDONED TIL AFTER THE ELECTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30. President Coolidge has had a change of heart about the investigation of the Treasury Department. Also, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has changed his attitude.

A few months ago, Mr. Mellon was threatening to resign if the Senate Couzens Committee persisted in its "unwarranted intrusion" into the affairs of the Treasury Department. Transmitting this threat to the Senate, the President plainly told that body he would "resist such intrusion."

One of the objections the President registered against the investigation was the Committee's demand upon Secretary Mellon for the President said, "a list of the companies in which the Secretary of the Treasury was alleged to be interested for the purpose of investigating their tax returns," to show their profits, the taxes they had paid and any refunds that had been made to them, some of which, according to Treasury figures, have been enormous.

In late September, not only does Secretary Mellon change his mind and advise that he will cooperate with the Committee headed by Senator Couzens, of Michigan, but the President, according to the Washington newspapers, has not only withdrawn his objection, but now believes the investigation he so unscathingly denounced a few months ago will be "constructive." The following paragraph is from a new story in the Washington Herald written after Senator Couzens had interviewed the President at the White House:

"After discussing the proposed investigation with the President, Couzens said the Chief Executive interposed no objection when the scope of the inquiry was outlined to him, and indicated his belief it would be constructive."

There is the further statement that the Committee will not get down to the business of investigating for a matter of another six weeks.

This announcement is extremely significant, in view of the changed attitude of the President and his Secretary of the Treasury. If the investigation discloses anything wrong in the Treasury Department, in the income tax division, the Prohibition Unit, or any of the other bureaus, with the investigation deferred six weeks, it will not be known until after the election and can do the administration no injury.

There is, too, this further interesting fact: There has been a Republican primary in Michigan in

Motion Picture Most Powerful Influence, Declares Will Hays, Czar of the Movies

WILL HAYS, HIS BROTHER'S TWO BOYS, AND HIS SON BILLY (IN BOOTS)

"The motion picture can do more than any other existing agency to unite the peoples of the world—to bring understanding not only between man and man but between nation and nation, than which no greater thing can be done," is the opinion of Will Hays, announced in an article in Hearst's International for October.

"In the 15,000 theaters with their seating capacity of 3,000,000 at each performance, perhaps 10,000,000 people every day see motion pictures—and they come in just that mood of reception and relaxation in which a master psychologist would have them come if he wanted to make an impression upon them."

"The influence of the motion picture on our national life is limitless—its influence on our taste, its influence on our conduct, its influence on our aspirations, its influence on our youth, its consequent immeasurable influence on our future—and its integrity must be protected as we protect the integrity of our churches and the quality developed as we develop the quality of our schools. The motion picture is today the principal amusement of a great majority of our people and the sole amusement of millions and millions, and its importance as such is measured by the imperative necessity of entertainment for the people."

"From the films your boy and my boy may be learning more than they learn from books or from schools. The impressions they are receiving may be deeper and more lasting than those from any other source. All pictures cannot be made for children, but there are certain standards of common decency that have nothing to do with age or geography, and those will be found and maintained."

which Senator Couzens, who has been a free and caustic critic of the Secretary of the Treasury, and of the administration on many subjects, was nominated to succeed himself over a strong Coolidge administration supporter by a very large majority. Maybe the President and the Secretary of the Treasury thought it would be unwise, in the light of the Michigan primary election result, to further attempt to thwart Mr. Couzens, particularly since Senator Couzens, had consented to defer his probing for a matter of six weeks.

If the investigation into the Treasury Department six months ago was an "unwarranted intrusion," what has transpired since that time to make it "constructive"? The record discloses no other happening bearing on the manner than the Michigan primary and the Committee's decision to defer its inquiry for six weeks, or until after the election.

When the Committee does get down to business, it will find plenty of material to work on in at least

HAS GREATEST FAITH IN POWERS OF TANLAC

MRS HOLMES FINDS BEST RESULTS ARE OBTAINED BY GIVING IT THOROUGH TRIAL.

Referring with regrets to the fact that she had been among those who had "stopped taking Tanlac too soon," Mrs. Louise Holmes, 241 West Cevallos St., San Antonio, Texas, said:

"For a long time I had suffered from nervous indigestion, couldn't sleep nights and often during the day I became so weak, dizzy and exhausted that I had to sit down and rest."

"The first bottle of Tanlac brought me such splendid results that I carelessly quit taking the medicine. For that reason I soon became run-down again, but when I realized my mistake I started right back on Tanlac and am now feeling fine. I have the greatest faith in Tanlac and, while I already feel that my health is perfect, I mean to stick to Tanlac this time until I have taken at least six bottles to make sure the work is thoroughly done."

on bureau of the Treasury, and that is the Prohibition Enforcement division, according to H. W. Marsh, of New York, Secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League, Mr. Marsh, in a statement printed September 21, charged that prohibition enforcement agents are appointed on political influence and in-dorsements, rather than for fitness. He said:

"All the federal prohibition agents whose duty it is to enforce the law are political appointees. They are chosen, not because of their fitness for the work they have to do, but on account of political influence and political endorsement. The leaders of the dominant political party, namely, United States Senators and National Committeemen in the States, practically control these appointments. The jobs are a part of their patronage. Many of the agents to whom jobs have been given under the patronage system are no more fit for their work than a corrupt ward politician is fit to be a bishop."

Mr. Marsh urged that prohibition agents and enforcement employees be placed under Civil Service.
